

Plastic pollution is a global Issue many consumers are far for the issue that It seems unreal. Animals suffering at the hand of humans, disheartening facts that are often Ignored, I am communicating this through creative art to encouraging the viewer to think about their plastic waste and in turn make a positive change to our environment.

Rebecca Yates