

Delayed publication of Zassho-Cascadia

It has been necessary to delay the publication of Zassho-Cascadia by Stephen Vaughan (Loose Joints) because of the COVID-19 pandemic. The pandemic created significant challenges for the publisher, not least the cancellation of all book fairs, events and programming, as well as severe restrictions on production and design collaboration. As a result, their publishing schedule for 2020-21 has required realignment and the book is now planned for release in 2021, when it can be given greater public visibility. Vaughan's own work schedule and ability to travel to finalise the book has also been severely affected by the pandemic.
